Official PSNM Officers Election Ballot Inside!

MIDtone

October 2006

From the President...

If you can't be a good example, then you'll just have to be a horrible warning.

— Catherine Moffatt

Greetings, PSNM Friends —

Someone recently pointed out to me that newcomers to PSNM may have no idea at all of how our organization is run. Since the ballot with the nominations for next year's officers is enclosed in this copy of the newsletter, this appears to be an appropriate time for a crash course in PSNM governance.

The four elected officers, plus the immediate past president (or another person if the past president declines to serve), constitute the board of directors, which is entrusted to conduct the business of the organization. For example, the board rules on questions of policy and procedure, creates and appoints whatever committees are necessary to carry out the society's business, and authorizes the collection and disbursement of funds. Matters brought before the board for discussion are decided by a majority vote. These and other responsibilities are outlined in the Bylaws, a legal document which is filed with the state in compliance with our nonprofit status.

A second document, called the Policies and Procedures Guide, sets forth guidelines for the various committees and their chairs as adopted by the Board. Unlike the Bylaws, which can be changed only through a time-consuming process culminating in a vote by the entire membership, the P&P Guide is a fluid document. As the board attempts to refine the processes by which PSNM business gets done, the P&P Guide is updated to reflect the evolution of the organization.

The beauty of this arrangement is that it provides a solid foundation while also allowing us the flexibility to make changes if needed. Copies of both documents are available to anyone who wishes to read them, and the board welcomes your input on changes you feel would further the goals of the society.

—Betsy Greenlee

Monthly Meeting at the Albuquerque Museum Saturday, Oct. 14, 10am

Colleen Howe shows us the power of Green

In her demonstration, Colleen will discuss how to handle greens. She is working on a series of landscapes for a museum show entitled, "The Glowing Landscape." These paintings focus on the glowing effects in a landscape and she will bring some of these unframed paintings to the meeting. They fit in with the "greens" discussion, because they are warm weather landscapes.

National Show Meeting

After the regular meeting, come over to Las Mañanitas (NE corner of Indian school and Rio Grande) to help apply labels and stamps to postcards being sent to people on our mailing list, visitors to last year's show, and people who purchased paintings. It should go quickly if we have lots of people to help. No need to buy lunch, but if you do, they give us separate checks.

PSNM Officers Ballot

Election is at the November Meeting

Please fill in the ballot, then detach this ballot and bring it with you to the November Meeting or mail to: PSNM, PO Box 3571, Albuquerque, NM 87190
(Must arrive before Nov. 6th)
